ACADEMIC DRESS

The following information is to help our visitors identify the costumes seen in the commencement procession.

Academic dress originated at universities in the Middle Ages when a warm gown and hood were necessary in unheated buildings. For centuries these gowns distinguished students from their fellow citizens; sometimes this distinction in dress symbolized unfortunate controversies between "town and gown". The European habit of using academic robes came to this country in the eighteenth century with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895 American universities and colleges standardized their styles of academic costumes, and this system, with occasional modifications, is still in force. Today the various colors, trimmings, and patterns of gown, hood, and cap are all traditional and symbolize both the degree and field of learning.

GOWNS: American academic gowns are usually of black material, and their pattern varies with the degree held. The bachelor gowns are relatively simple in design with a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's gowns have an open front with long, closed sleeves, the arms extending through a slit at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Doctoral gowns are the most elaborate with velvet panels down the open front and three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS: The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees (bachelor's, master's, and doctor's), are lined with the colors of the institution that granted the degree. Hoods are also trimmed with the color that heralds the major field of learning.

CAPS: A square mortarboard is the approval headgear. The tassel, fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap, is black or the color appropriate to the subject; it may be gold if the holder has a doctor's degree. Memphis State University has adopted the practice of having candidates for the bachelor degree to wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left at the moment when the degrees are awarded to them.

Following is a list of the hood and tassel colors that represent several categories of learning:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Sapphire Blue
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts	Brown
Home Economics	Maroon
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Oratory (Speech)	Silver Gray
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron

All hoods are edged with the above colors. These same colors may be used for the facing and sleeve bars of doctoral gowns and tassels on bachelors' and masters' caps.

The lining of the hood indicates the university granting the degree—for Memphis State University, blue and gray. Among other institutional colors represented at this commencement are those for Arkansas, red and white; Chicago, maroon; Columbia, light blue and white chevron; Duke, royal blue with white chevron; Emory, navy blue with gold chevron; Harvard, crimson; Illinois, navy blue with two orange chevrons; University of Iowa, old gold; Kansas, navy blue with cardinal chevron; Northwestern, purple with gold chevrons; Ohio State, scarlet with silver gray chevron; Rice, silver above blue; Texas, white above orange; Vanderbilt, black and gold; Wisconsin, bright red; Yale, royal blue.

THE HISTORICAL HERITAGE

The story of Memphis State University reflects in a single institution the larger story of an emerging modern South. From the opening of its doors in 1912 as a normal school for training teachers to its present status as a complex, multipurpose university, Memphis State has been inevitably thrust forward by the growth of Memphis and the Mid-South. A town oriented to a rural economy and culture in 1900 grew into a large urban and commercial center by mid-century, and the story of the city's public institution of higher learning has likewise been one of growth.

Memphis State's struggle has been typical of other major universities coming into prominence since World War II. As a public institution in a relatively poor state, Memphis State's destiny has been closely related to state politics as filtered through the attitudes of governors, legislators, newspaper editors, and members of the governing boards. Whether it be admission policies, academic programs, or financing, a diffused notion of "democracy" has prevailed; a community's public educational needs, as interpreted by legislators and board members, have determined a college's role. In addition, Memphis State has for many years been the primary issue in the question, can Tennessee afford more than one university of quality? Only in the past decade has there been much evidence of an affirmative answer to this question.

Nevertheless, from normal school for a few hundred students (1912-1925), to teachers' college with a better staff and an enrollment of up to a thousand (1925-1941), to state college with an expanded curriculum in liberal arts, business, and graduate education for three to four thousand students (1941-1957), the institution finally became a full university in 1957.

As the city of Memphis prospered and exceeded a half million population, the demand for a completely developed, comprehensive public university could not be denied. Other public colleges were too distant to help and the city's private colleges were limited in curricula offerings and the number of students they could accommodate. Thus, legislators and board members changed their minds about Memphis State's role and began channeling the resources necessary to meet the educational needs of Memphis and West Tennessee. This change was facilitated by the forceful leadership of several presidents and a number of dedicated and influential faculty members.

The metropolitan requirements for more highly trained university people have of necessity caused Memphis State to expand all of its offerings in arts and sciences, business administration, education, graduate education (including the doctorate in eight disciplines), law, engineering, continuing education for adults, and nursing, in addition to several special non-degree programs.

Memphis State experienced a decade of constructive racial integration, fortunately being able to avoid most of the difficulties wracking other colleges. From eight black students in 1959 to two thousand by 1970, Negro students have made the goal of democratic education a reality at Memphis State.

The sixties was a decade of rapid development in all aspects of the University's operation. During this period, the number of faculty members increased from 200 to 727; library volumes from 80,000 to 600,000; the operating budget from $2,373,000 to $22,185,000; campus acreage from 85 to 1,000; and campus value from $17,000,000 to $61,000,000. Now, as the enrollment settles down in the 20,000 range, the University will strive to build its academic programs to match its physical expansion of the 1960's. Memphis State, in short, has become a regionally recognized multipurposed university with a most promising future.

UNDERGRADUATE

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

GRADUATION WITH DISTINCTION

Based on a grading system of "A" as 4.0, three designations of graduation honors are recognized:

Summa Cum Laude ..... With Highest Distinction

Magna Cum Laude ..... With High Distinction

Cum Laude ..... With Distinction

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

With the approval of the University Honors Council, Memphis State University offers several departmental honors programs. These programs involve a combination of special honors course work, independent study, and usually an honors thesis or project. Students who successfully complete a departmental honors program are awarded their degrees with honors in their area of concentration (e.g., With Honors in English).

WITH HIGH SCHOLARSHIP

Students who successfully complete the two-year program with a grade point of 3.00 or better are awarded the associate degree with high scholarship.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

Stand firm, O Alma Mater,
Through all the years to come;
In days of youth and beauty
Thy halls have been our home.
In time of preparation
Great lessons didst thou teach
Til now, O Alma Mater,
The stars we'll strive to reach.

Lead on, O Alma Mater,
Thy sons to higher ways,
Give light and truth unto them
For all their coming days.
To thee we'll give all honor,
Our hopes abide in Thee,
For thou, O Alma Mater,
Hast made us ever free.
